DSM Pharmaceuticals Expands into Sterile Clinical Trial Manufacturing

(Parsippany, January 3, 2007)

DSM Pharmaceuticals recently completed an expansion to its sterile parenteral manufacturing facility in Greenville, NC, adding a Clinical Trial Material manufacturing suite capable of manufacturing large and small molecule liquid and lyophilized products for PI-III clinical trials.

“What’s resulted is an expanded service offering consistent with the level of high quality service and deliverables our customers have come to expect from DSM”, says Terry Novak, Chief Marketing Officer, DSM Pharmaceuticals Inc. “For customers with sterile products in development, they can now start with DSM in clinical trial manufacturing and stay with DSM through commercial manufacturing.”

This service combined with optional support services such as, QA Audits, Regulatory Support, Lyophilization Cycle development; Analytical methods development and testing provide DSM customers with comprehensive services, consistency and support unparalleled in the industry.

“We have taken this capability one step further”, says Hans Engels, Chief Operating Officer, DSM Pharmaceuticals, Inc., by simplifying the business functions and operations to include standardized documentation and open up front pricing, so there won’t be any surprises”.
