While the Milwaukee District West Line of the Chicago Metra service does provide train service between Chicago and Elgin, it is generally not a safe bet for getting to DSM Desotech. It can be cumbersome to get from the train station to the Elgin plant.

However, if you are in the area for some time and wish to tour Chicago, the Metra train is a great way to get into the city. The Chicago Street station in Elgin has trains leaving to Union Station in Chicago about every hour. For schedules, look on the Internet at www.metra-rail.com.
