Global Omega-3 Status Map shows low levels for most of the world.

Low omega-3 levels are widespread – particularly in the Western World.

Coastal regions of countries and populations that traditionally rely on hunting, fishing and gathering for sustenance tend to have moderate to adequate omega-3 levels.